

Convenient

Realife Cooperative at 86th and Nicollet is located in an attractive setting in the center of the Bloomington/Richfield area.

Shopping, restaurants, grocery stores and churches are all close at hand. We are halfway between Southdale and the Mall of America.

Two bus lines pass the building. The airport and light rail terminals are not far away.

Catered meals are served once a week at a nominal cost and regular delivery of groceries is also provided by various vendors.

Friendly

Realife Cooperative of Bloomington on Nicollet helps seniors enjoy independent living and avoid the isolation often associated with growing older. Residents enjoy a sense of family through participation in social gatherings, dinners, outings and other activities.

Cooperative housing means joint ownership by residents. It provides home ownership without the responsibility of maintaining building and grounds. Our cooperative is non-profit. Unit monthly charges include real estate taxes. Residents are entitled to deduct their portion of the mortgage interest and property taxes on their personal income tax returns.

Cooperative residents are their own landlords. Cooperative ownership instills pride in residents who have a deeper interest in maintaining the property. Residents participate in a shared government by electing a board of directors from their membership.
